

Prime Minister I remember saying to Mm, " If only your sister had been alive now to witness your triumph, what happiness it would have given her "; and he replied, " Ah, poor Sa, poor Sa! we've lost our audience, we've lost our audience," and at once turned the subject as too painful to dwell upon.'

